

Quarry Department Manager

Taylor's quarry is an integral part of the wider organisation, providing material both internally and externally. We are looking for a person who has excellent management skills and has a passion for leading a strong team to further success.

You will be joining a team of 9, who have an excellent team culture and hold a vast range of experience.

Taylor's own two quarries with a range of hard rock and alluvial material and support several other quarries across the South Island.

As a Quarry Manager at Taylor's, you will need:

- A tertiary or diploma qualification, in engineering, geology or similar
- Responsible for all forward planning work and consenting
- Financial reporting
- Knowledge of Health and Safety requirements in the industry
- Adept in technology, computers, and systems
- To build and maintain relationships with existing and new clients
- Excellent interpersonal and relationship building skills

What we Offer:

- Competitive remuneration package to reflect skills and experience including company vehicle and phone
- A supportive team environment where you're trusted and given the tools to deliver and excel in your career.
- Access to a range of discounts and benefits including offers of health insurance, wellbeing initiatives, counselling services and retail discounts etc.

What next?

If this sounds like it could be the next challenge you are looking for, please send your CV along with a cover letter to neil@taycon.co.nz

About Us

Taylor's Contracting is a leading family owned and operated Civil and Earthmoving contractor in New Zealand with our Head Quarters located in Brightwater Nelson and a branch in Christchurch. We have been in business since 1971, with a solid reputation for innovative solutions and teamwork. We specialize in civil and infrastructure construction including medium to large scale land development, earthworks, site-works, dams, and roading.